Why a cross-sector view helps

Many buyers outgrow a single category. A software client often needs QA and customer support next; a manufacturing buyer needs logistics and sometimes custom software for ordering or tracking. Using one directory for all of these means one search routine, one set of filters, and one place to compare.

It also exposes vendors you wouldn't search for by name. Plenty of strong Vietnamese companies, especially mid-sized and specialist ones, do not buy global advertising.

Before you sign anything

A directory is a place to start. Confirm business registration, request references, check certifications such as ISO 27001 for data and ISO 9001 for quality, and run a pilot before committing to a longer contract. Vietnam's data protection law took effect in January 2026, and its revised IP law in April 2026, so have a lawyer review contracts.
